

European health chief pretends to vaccinate his niece with MMR to reassure vaccine hesitant parents, his PR stunt gets busted as the safety cap was still on the vaccine

To reassure parents about MMR vaccine safety, the Macedonian health chief pretended to vaccinate his niece, but eagle eyed observers noticed the safety cap was still on the vaccine, he was forced to admit he faked it as a PR stunt.

“he pretended to vaccinate a niece with the MMR vaccine but was forced to acknowledge that the stunt was fake when it was realized that the baby on the picture he distributed is clearly too young to receive the vaccine, and the needle still has its safety cap on.”

<https://english.republika.mk/news/macedonia/parents-who-refuse-vaccination-send-a-list-of-demands-to-minister-filipce/>

level 1

Yakapo88

8 points · 13 hours ago

Reminds me of a university president who wanted to show his student that vaccines were safe by taking one. He died. His name was Jonathan Edwards.

level 2

ExternalBid

2 points · 5 hours ago

Jonathan Edwards

I did not know he died as a result of the smallpox vaccination. Thanks for sharing

level 3

Yakapo88

Score hidden · 33 minutes ago

It's not easy to find, but one of the side effects of vaccinations that was clearly documented when they were first used was “idiocy”. I'll let you guess what we call idiocy today.

level 3

Baelzebubba

1 point · 2 hours ago · edited 2 hours ago

Inoculation is not the same as a vaccination. And 1758 seems really early for this procedure.

wiki

When Edward Jenner introduced smallpox vaccine in 1798, this was initially called cowpox inoculation

Edit. I guess the terms are interchangeable.

level 1

geneticshill

19 points · 19 hours ago

SS - A health minister pretended to vaccinate his niece with MMR in order to trick the population that he believed it was a truly safe vaccine, so safe that he would give it to his own loved ones.

level 1

ExternalBid

3 points · 5 hours ago

I don't think elites vaccinate would love to see Paul Offit take his 10,000 shots all at once though

level 1

irrelevantappelation

7 points · 15 hours ago

This is blatant charlatanism.

If he was caught out pretending to administer essential oils as a balm the MSM would shit their pants to eat this up as propaganda against natural medicine.

Fuck this fucking bullshit, at the least he should not be considered a reputable representative of vaccination in his country.